- And to build a professional network!

INTRODUCTION

The objective is to give its participants a global understanding of the European Migration and Asylum policies from a legal perspective, including the latest developments in 2022. The summer school has trained more than 2000 persons and is well known among employers considering it as an asset for job seekers. The summer school is organised by the Odysseus Network for Legal Studies on Immigration and Asylum in Europe founded by Prof. Philippe De Bruycker in 1999 with the support of the European Commission. In addition to classes, the summer school provides an excellent opportunity to spend an intellectually stimulating time in a group of around one hundred participants specialised in migration and asylum law. The location of the summer school in Brussels creates a unique European environment with participants from different Member States who typically includes PhD and graduate students, researchers, EU and Member State officials, representatives of NGOs and international organisations, lawyers, judges, social workers, etc. The classes are taught by academics originating from all EU Member States collaborating in the framework of the Odysseus Network, and by high-ranking officials from the European Institutions, particularly the European Commission. LANGUAGES

Courses onsite are in principle taught separately in English AND in French to allow participants to choose between those two languages, with the exception of those given by guest speakers which will be exclusively in English. The course online are only available in English. The organisers may ask French-speakers having chosen the English group to move to the French-speaking group in order to balance the number of participants between both groups.

A FOCUS ON THE NEW MIGRATION & ASYLUM PACT

This 22th edition of the summer school will focus on the progress of the New Migration and Asylum Pact presented by the European Commission on 23rd September 2020 and the temporary protection of Ukrainian Refugees. The opening session will be devoted to what is at stake with the pact and the evolution of the debate with the positions taken by the Council of Ministers and the European Parliament in the framework of the legislative process. Solidarity between Member States in liaison with the reform of the Dublin system, asylum and return border procedures, role of EU agencies will be among the issues that will be discussed. The controversy about Frontex and pushbacks will also be analysed in relation with the diverse types of control exercised upon the agency and its liability.

All those issues will be at the core of the discussions that will take place during the visits to the EU institutions (Council, Parliament, Commission). In case the sanitary situation would not allow visits on the spot, the speakers of the concerned institutions will be invited to come to the ULB campus where the summer school takes place.

A forum will be opened on the electronic platform of the summer school to launch a debate about the future of the European Migration and Asylum Policies among the participants.

Special Collection of papers on the 'New' Migration and Asylum Pact

- The debate will be fueled by the last book published by the Odysseus Network about the new migration and asylum pact and the series of numerous posts that has been published on the Odysseus blog.

AN ONLINE VERSION

At the occasion of the 20th anniversary of the summer school and due to the sanitary crisis, the Odysseus Network has decided to set up a new online version of the summer school for English speakers on top of the existing onsite version. This will allow persons who cannot travel to Brussels to follow the summer school, including persons living far away from the EU. This version built on the platform Teams of Microsoft is identical to the onsite version regarding fees, admission requirements, subjects, lecturers, documentation, PhD seminars, calendar, schedule, evening debates, certification, including networking activities as much as possible, but except obviously the visits to the EU institutions.

All the courses and evening events will be accessible live (meaning at the same moment they take place in Brussels). Online participants will be involved actively in the summer school. A moderator will give them priority to ask questions to the professor. For each course, all participants will have the possibility to test their level of understanding by answering multiple-choice questions.

All participants are allowed to mix the online and onsite versions of the summer school, so that they can decide freely to follow the classes at home or in Brussels depending upon their choice! To follow the online version of the summer school, you do not need more than a recent computer with a camera and a good internet connection. Technical assistance will be available during the entire summer school and a training session about the use of Teams will be organised a few days in advance.

TEACHING APPROACH

The classes have a legal focus and combine theoretical and practical elements. They tackle the most recent political, legislative, and jurisprudential developments of the EU migration and asylum policies and favor discussions, in particular during evening debates. The last proposals of the European institutions, in particular the New Migration and Asylum Pact, will be analysed with the contribution of European officials and guest speakers. Each participant will have access to up-to-date documentation on an electronic platform.

LECTURERS

The lecturers at the summer school include many members of the Odysseus Network as well as other experts in EU migration and asylum law. The program alternates between experienced professors with established reputation and younger colleagues specialised in a particular field to ensure that all courses, even the most technical, are taught by an expert of the area. The diversity of the speakers who come from all parts of the EU allows the expression of views from different Member States. There are also several speakers from the European institutions (in particular the European Commission's DG Migration and Home Affairs) and international organisations (UNHCR). On top, some panels will include lawyers who are involved in cases before the European Court of Human rights or the European Court of Justice, sometimes even before the ruling!

Below is a list of speakers from the summer school over the past years. This is only an example, although several of those speakers will appear on the summer school's 2022 program. Please see our website for up-to-date information.

CALENDAR & SCHEDULE

The first general part of the program includes around 14 hours of lectures and the second and third special parts on asylum and immigration around 30 hours in total. Each day is generally made of two classes of 2 to 3 hours with a coffee-break in between. In order to enable participants in full-time employment to attend the classes, courses take place mainly in the afternoon between 1:00pm and 6:30pm.

EXTRACURRICULAR ACTIVITIES

#REFYOUNGEES CAMPAIGN FOR STUDENTS-REFUGEES SCHOLARSHIPS

The objective of this initiative is to offer a group of student-refugees to take part in the summer school, gain knowledge in EU immigration and asylum law and complete their education that may have been interrupted by their forced departure from their home country. A number of refugees working in NGOs have already benefited from it since the launch of this initiative in 2016. The initiative RefYOUgees organised with the support of the Université libre de Bruxelles is based on crowdfunding. We will this year try to welcome refugees from Ukraine and Afghanistan.

PHD SEMINAR - FOUR GRANTS AVAILABLE

A PhD Seminar is organised during the summer school. It offers to a group of around ten doctoral researchers and students the opportunity to present their PhD project and to receive feedback from a panel of Odysseus Members. The seminar is mainly for legal PhDs, but candidates in political science or international relations whose thesis include legal aspects can be accepted in agreement with the organisers. These sessions are in English, but some may be organised in French upon request.

The selected PhDs students need to register to the summer school and pay the registration fees for PhDs. They will follow the entire program as any participant to the summer school in addition to the PhD Seminar of around 10 hours.

Four grants are available and will be attributed on the basis of academic record and financial needs. The grants cover the registration fee (with the exception of the € 300 subscription fees as below) as well as travel and accommodation costs. Grant beneficiaries are requested to coordinate the English or French speaking group of participants.

The closing date for applications is 15 May 2022. Consult our website for more information!

EVENING DEBATES & OTHER EVENTS

In addition to the opening lecture and some cocktails, a series of optional activities are organised during the summer school on the campus of the ULB or in the premises of the European institutions.

- A debate on the progress of discussions about the New Migration & Asylum Pact;
- An evening debate on temporary protection of Ukrainian Refugees;
- Evenings debates based on the most recent case law with speakers ranging from lawyers engaged in cases before the European Court of Human Rights or the Court of Justice of the EU, Members of the European Parliament, judges, high officials of EU institutions, Justice & Home Affairs advisers of Member States' Permanent Representations, as well as representatives of international organisation and NGOs;
- A "Who is who?" session for socialisation between the participants of the summer school
- Morning sessions with presentations of PhD projects in the framework of the PhD seminar;
- A trip to the Red Star Line Museum in Antwerp dedicated to the emigration of Europeans to the United states on Saturday 9 July.

As other events will be added to the program over time, you are invited to consult our website for the most recent information. Persons registered to the summer school will be kept informed via email.

NETWORKING

An evening cocktail will be organised during the summer school where people working for EU Institutions (European Parliament, Commission, Council, EU Agencies), International Organisations (UNHCR, IOM, ICMPD, etc.), NGOs (ECRE,..., think tanks (MPG, MPI, etc.) and consultancy companies are invited, to give the participants of the summer school the opportunity to make contacts that could help them to find a traineeship or a job.

VISITS TO EUROPEAN INSTITUTIONS

Staying in the capital of the Europe is a unique opportunity to discover the EU institutions and to meet high-level officials who come to lecture in the summer school. Visits to the European Parliament, the Commission and the Council of Ministers will be organised by the Odysseus Network depending upon the sanitary situation. Participants may also take the opportunity to spend an evening in the heart of the European quarter at Place du Luxembourg, where people working in EU institutions famously go for an after-work drink.

PRACTICAL INFORMATION

FACILITIES

Participants will have access to the summer school's private electronic platform under TEAMS containing all documents used during the courses, including the power point presentations of the speakers. Participants are therefore encouraged to bring a laptop if they have access to one. Participants will also be able to use the various university facilities (wifi, libraries, cafeterias, medical and sports facilities, etc.) within the limits due to the sanitary situation.

CERTIFICATE

The program does not require any written work to be submitted or exams to be taken. Some prior readings are recommended. Participants who sign the attendance register for at least 80% of the courses will receive a certificate of attendance. The presence of online participants will also be checked. The certificate will be delivered at the closing cocktail or send by post.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

Applicants must have some legal background. They must have either completed a University degree (at least a BA or equivalent with 3 years of studies) in Law, Political Science or International Relations (graduates of other disciplines will be considered depending upon the legal courses they have followed) or have an equivalent professional experience in a relevant field. Successful candidates will have to submit a copy of their university degree before the start of the Summer School.

REGISTRATION FEES

	Student (without income)	NGO/ PhD/ Trainee	Professional
Deposit fee	€ 300	€300	€ 300
Balance	€ 300	€500	€ 900
Total	€ 600	€800	€1200

For notice, the program is self-financed by the registration fees paid by the participants and does not rely on any subvention. All speakers give freely their time!

The fees are the same for the onsite and the online version of the Summer School.

To apply for the Summer School, please send back the registration form available on the Odysseus website at the latest on 15 May 2022. Candidates must pay a registration fee of € 300 to introduce their file. Only candidates who have paid that amount will be taken in consideration. This amount will not be reimbursed if the candidate withdraws without 'force majeure' but will be reimbursed if the applicant is not selected by the Odysseus Network to participate in the summer school.

The fees cover the cost of classes, access to the electronic platform, university facilities, visits, cocktails and coffee- breaks. Fees do not include travel, food and accommodation. Participants requiring information about accommodation possibilities should mention this in their application form.
